

Nilim Gupta

Digital Publishing Assistant

The bulk of my experience lies in teaching, editing, and writing. I have had very fulfilling experiences working with authors to strengthen their natural voice and improve the clarity of their arguments. The most recent book I edited was The Dark Side of News Fixing (Anthem Press 2021), a book on the exploitation of Afghani and Pakistani journalists providing the war coverage devoured by Western news media. I am deeply excited to be working with AFRO PWW-2 because it will connect authors, especially those historically excluded from publishing, with tools to bring their work to a new level in the digital sphere.

I received my Bachelor's degree in Comparative Literature with a minor in Spanish from Cornell University in 2017. Since then, I have worked in various fields like tech, public health, and education. I am currently pursuing an M.Ed at UIUC and teacher's licensure for Secondary English.
